

ausfilm television week LONDON

October 13 – 16, 2013

Ausfilm's targeted UK television mission – Ausfilm Television Week London - will take place from October 13-16, 2013.

Ausfilm Television Week Purpose:

To create and develop co-production opportunities between Australian and UK producers for high-end television drama and animation productions.

Event outline:

The event schedule will feature meetings for Australian producers with UK counterparts for specific co-production projects that hold international appeal. These meetings will focus on the development of current projects with a view of co-production/finance/sales and will be established through in-depth profiling and matchmaking.

Ausfilm Television Week London 2013 will also comprise networking experiences and learning opportunities to develop and foster strong growth between the Australian and UK television and film industries.

2013 Event objectives:

- Focus event activities on the opportunities of co-production for television supported by integration of film in wider industry networking events
- Develop expanded opportunities to connect to European producers in addition to UK producers
- Extend reach within UK industry to include partnerships with key UK influencers – such as BAFTA
- Enhance involvement of Ausfilm attending members within event schedule
